

Builder of the Idaho Anne Frank Human Rights Memorial

Summer Institute for Teachers: Fostering a School Culture and Climate of Human Rights

June 7-11, 2010
Hampton Inn and Suites (downtown)
Boise, Idaho

Amy Herzfeld, Executive Director
Dr. Dan Prinzing, Education Director
Idaho Human Rights Education Center
www.idaho-humanrights.org

A unique opportunity for Idaho pre-service and in-service teachers to take part in a professional development institute that features both scholarship and project-based learning in human rights education. Graduate credit will be available for a fee.

Benefits of Attendance

- Prepares teachers to introduce and integrate human rights topics in the classroom
- Offers participants opportunities to learn from noted scholars in human rights education
- Provides educators the opportunities to form partnerships and networks throughout the state

Expenses Paid

Participants chosen to attend will receive AT NO COST:

- Lodging (double occupancy) and meals
- Classroom materials to support instruction

Participant Qualifications and Selection

Each applicant will be evaluated on the following criteria:

- The applicant is assigned or preparing to teach social studies, language arts, or visual arts.
- The school and/or district will support the teacher's classroom integration of a human rights lesson, project, or service learning opportunity.

How to Apply

1. Complete the application form.
2. Attach your resume (required).
3. Mail or fax the completed application and your attachments to

Dax Chizum, Administrative Director
Idaho Human Rights Education Center
777 S. 8th Street
Boise, ID 83702
FAX: (208) 433-1221

Application Deadline: April 30, 2010.

The Mission of the Idaho Human Rights Center is to promote respect for human dignity and diversity through education and to foster our individual responsibility to work for justice and peace. We achieve this mission through education programming, Memorial tours and collaborative advocacy. We are proud of our many accomplishments.

We want you to be inspired with our message. We trust that you will find the reasons—and tools—for taking action in human rights advocacy in your neighborhood, in your school, in your family, in your community, in our country, and throughout your life.

HUMAN RIGHTS SUMMER INSTITUTE APPLICATION – due April 30, 2010

Please print or type – All information is required

Name _____

Grade/classes you teach _____

School district _____

School _____

School address _____

School telephone _____

School fax _____

Summer contact information required

Home telephone _____

Email address _____

Home address _____

Written Statement

In no more than 300 words, explain why you are qualified for this institute, define what human rights education means to you, and describe some ways that you would or currently integrate human rights themes or topics in your classroom. (Please print or type.)